

Such Spars and timber as you may wish Mr. Hale judge valuable. But if it is to be obtained and salt fish. Kerosin or any other natural productions. I wish you to fill up with Potatoes, they had better be kept in the baskets in which the natives bring them as I think they will keep better that way. On the Sabbath Day I wish Mr. Kendall to read on board when the weather will permit the Prayers of the Church. And when you arrive at New Zealand I desire that you will be very particular in the observance of the Sabbath Day; not to buy or sell any thing on that day, but all the sailors to be clean and do no work. Messrs. Hale and Kendall will do all they can to procure a cargo for the vessel towards defraying the expense along with you, and I hope you will show every attention to them and make their situation as comfortable as possible. And Mr. Kendall and Mr. Hale wish to remain a few days longer when the vessel is ready you will be good enough to allow them, in order that they may form any plan for their future settlement at New Zealand or to gain any information respecting the Island for the future guidance of the Church Missionary Society. Dear
Yours &c.

Wm. Halliday

I wish you not to allow any private trade with the natives nor any natives to be brought on board by the ships company without your particular permission. And to prevent all quarrels as far as possible you will not suffer any of the native women to come on board, as this voyage is for a particular object.
