I beseech you never to forget this that we have no other interest in our undertakings than you have. We all profess to serve one Master. You have the higher honor of laying the heavier burden on your shoulders; but if you cast it off, or take your hand from the plough, better would it be if you had never been born.

But we hope better things of you "though we thus speak" a way is opened for you we trust, to New Zealand where you may prepare that interesting race of people for the blessings of the everlasting Gospel.

Mr Sawcett of Carlisle, desired me to forward certain goods to Mr Ball to the amount of 33-19-7, being property left to Mrs Ball. on the other side is an amount of goods amounting to 39-0-2. a quantity are sent, which Mr. B. desired to have. He will accept the balance from us.

A present of Crockery & Stationery is also sent for each of you, & medicines for common use.

I hope to hear that these things arrive in safety, & to receive good accounts of your success at New Zealand.

You will be pleased to read in the Missionsary Registers of the increasing prosperity of our own and other Societies.

May God be with you & yours; and bless you abundantly, in your souls, & in your labours!

Remaining your affectionate friend
Donald Pratt
