They know, at a nother time M<sup>r</sup>. M. told him that M<sup>r</sup>. Kendle would teach the Children to read and write and ~~the~~<sup>you</sup> must send them, by and by, I make I first grow plenty of wheat and corn &c. &c., and then teach the Children by & by the like it very well, know nothing about it yet, I hope these few lines will find you in health of body and prosperity of Soul enjoying all the blessings of old England and all the blessings of the new Jerusalem, and be at last filled with all the fulness of God is the sincere prayer of your most unworthy friend now and ever, please to give <sup>any</sup> sincere & humble thanks to M<sup>r</sup>. Wilson Esq. for his kindness in forwarding my mothers Letters to me, having no other way of speaking to them but by Letters, My sincere respects to all that are Dear, and to all that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity, prosperity of Lion Brethren pray for us, that the may have free course and be glorified even is with you, and to him that is able to keep us be glory ever Amen, so I rest.

Rev<sup>d</sup> Sir

Your most unworthy servant
John King
