90.

Altho' the spot on which I reside is entirely unsuitable for the purposes of cultivation, and I cannot of course do much towards the support of my family whilst I am upon it, yet I think it my duty to settle here on account of the number of children that are about me. Any settlers who may come out with a view of ultimately making themselves independent of the Society ought to be encouraged to go over to Mr Hall, or to establish themselves in some other convenient place. Company is very desirable.
But while I feel myself safe, I shall be content.

Altho' Mr Hall is alone yet I am told the people of Massachusetts district are very kind to him and do not attempt to take any thing from him. Massachusetts, and another Chief assist him continually with their good offices.
