

I have as yet had no advice. The Society's Annual reports, Missionary Register No 23. Moderator's Newspapers and some Magazines are also received. In the whole of which favors I beg to express my grateful and best acknowledged thanks.

I have no Numbers of the Missionary Register for Decr. 1813. and for January Febry and August 1814. but I probably can have them from Mr. Marsden.

The Pocket compasses and Medicine Chest which I requested are not come to hand.

With respect to that part of your letter in which you allude to the probability of being enabled to place "all the Society's concerns in this quarter under the direction of an Auxiliary Society to be formed in New South Wales" I can say but little. Such a measure if it could be adopted without danger would be a great thing, as it would greatly ease the Committee in its ordinary toil and an Auxiliary Society would assist the Parent Society in bearing the expenses of the letter.
