

as far as I can judge Divine Providence seems to be "preparing the way for the Gospel to be introduced "amongst the Natives of New Zealand. I can speak to them in their own tongue, as yet, but very imperfectly.
 But when I in my incoherent way tell them of God who made the world, and of the great love of his son Jesus Christ for Mankind, they do not reject the account with abhorrence. I think a Minister of the Lord Jesus in a little time families may be supported here and a trusty <sup>people</sup> would be well treated by many. The Society would do well to encourage <sup>more</sup> Christian Adventurers to embark for <sup>this</sup> Island. We are in want of persons of talent to write in <sup>the</sup> ~~the~~ Language. I and my colleagues sensible of our weakness, call for help. We entertain the glad Idea that the power of these poor creatures deliverance is at hand. Before any other persons can arrive from England I have no doubt but through the Divine Blessing the Settlement will be established.

Two or three pious youths would find plenty of employment at New Zealand. They and their families would be well supplied
