

73
proper to express, or rather, from my knowledge of circumstances I should say to adapt, and appropriate the expression of them.

I have the honor to be
Rev^d Sir,

Your very Obedt Hble Servant
(signed) Ju^s Mylde
Judge Adv^t N. S. W.

To The Rev^d Saml Marsden Principal Chaplain of the Territory N. S. W.

(Copy)

Paramatta April 28th 1809

Sir,

Yesterday I received your letter in reply to mine on the 24th Inst. and was concerned to find that my intention in writing that letter had been misunderstood. From the observations contained in your letter to me under date of the 23rd Inst. I was apprehensive that I had through Ignorance of the present mode in drawing up criminal cases, committed some error. Under this impression my letter was written, and it was from this Idea I stated what I have always understood to have been the practice in this Colony in criminal Cases, and also what I have heard the late Honble Mr Bent say on the subject. I had no intention in the smallest degree to offend you either personally or officially, and am very sorry if any part of my letter should appear to you in that light.

I have the honor to be Your most Obedient Humble Servant -

To the Honorable
Judge Advocate Mylde

(signed) Saml Marsden