

parts in my own conduct which were justly blameable. Thus far, however, I humbly hope, I may be permitted to say, that it is the Lord who in his infinite condescension to me, has called me to the work in which I am now engaged.
 If there is, in any of my transactions as a Missionary settled any evil it is from myself, if any good it is of the Lord's doing. I desire to bless him for it. I praise him that has ^{rod and staff} ~~rod and staff~~ are my comfort. I pray that I may be inclined to go on with a single eye to his glory and to be made useful in promoting his Kingdom amongst the Nations where I now sojourn. It is also my study to give satisfaction to the Society whose servant I am. Next to the displeasure of my Heavenly Master nothing would grieve me so much, as to forfeit the good opinion of the Society. They will not expect perfection from
