

Should the Committee consider the School, as I 2 think they will, it would be right to encourage all the Missionary Settlers without exception to employ their leisure hours in the School.
 The School House is large enough for two, three or four teachers at a time. I wish for my colleagues to interest themselves both in procuring supplies for it, in teaching it, and in seeing how the trade allowed for the School is expended. I wish from my heart to be enabled to prove to them all that my views are disinterested and not mercenary when I so earnestly importune for the liberal boon of the Society in behalf of the Children of New Zealand - I have the honor to remain Yours & Dear Sir

Yours faithfully
 Geo. Kendall