 Cattle and Ploughs can be introduced which I hope will not be long before they take place. I should think £30 per annum would supply all the Articles necessary for Agriculture. with respect to the Sowing and procuring Seeds, that would be no Expense to the Society, as this would chiefly be put on board the Store, and for which I should send Articles to pay the natives.
 Mr Kendall urges me much to supply the School regularly with Provisions. This would amount to about £100 per annum.
 The School would require about three Tons of Rice; and you would purchase Potatoes per annum - and a small quantity of Fish-hooks. Mr King would want about ten pounds worth of similar Articles to pay the natives for Man. & d -
