

Monday 8 March 1819

174 19

A fine S.W. breeze several ships in sight Mr. Butler and Sunt. Butler joined Mr. Kemp and myself in the School in our cabin in hopes that Teeterree might have been prevailed upon to come to his lesson again, but without effect — P.M.
the breeze freshens and is most grateful to us after the calm and hot weather we have experienced.

Lat. 16 Miles N — Long. 14. 19 W.

Tuesday Mar 9

Fresh breezes from the S.E. we are now proceeding briskly to the place of our destination — we were all pleased this day on Teeterrees joining us at school, he behaved well, and we hope will continue so to do. To Thee O Jesus be all the praise, for Thou hast again heard and answered our prayers and been better to us than all our fears. The weather is exceeding hot. Mr. Kemp again sickly. I apprehend her indisposition arises from her being in that state women wish to be, who love their husbands — we have been highly favored since we left the Dawn, we have not had a gale of wind the whole time. To whom are we to attribute this but to Thee O Jesus in answer to our poor supplications. O make us grateful and keep us near to Thee

Lat. 45 Miles South

Long. 20. 41 W.

Wednesday 10 Mar

A fine strong gale breeze from the S.E. and not quite so hot as it has been. Employed with Mr. Butler his son & Mr.
Kemp in the school with Tosi & Teeterree & in reading.
Teeterree behaves very well —

Lat. 2. 14. S

Long. 22. 15. W.

Thursday 11 Mar.

D. Weather and Employment. The Lord help us to exemplify the Christian character in the midst of a Crooked and perverse generation — Lat 4. 5 S
Long. 24. 33 W

Friday 12 March

A charming fresh breeze from the S.E. we can perceive the weather much cooler already. Empl. with my companions in the school with Tosi & Teeterree and with the Council on Deck. one of these my poor brother Simon to whom I was talking alone, shewed the deepest signs of contrition for sin and while a tear rolled down his cheek he seemed to derive comfort from the gracious promises in the Everlasting Gospel. May the Holy and Eternal Spirit enable him to believe in and pray to Jesus and I trust he shall be found at the right hand of our God in the last Day

Lat. 6. 19 S Long. 26. 23 W