

199 very much in the Knowledge of Agriculture, which they are fond of. These men will be ready in their own Country to favour the Views of the Society should they at any future Period extend their Plan of civilization, when the Seminary is completed, and they are all employed I shall then be able to ascertain the exact amount of their Expenses, but at present it is impossible to send you any other statement than that which I forward ~~there is~~ there is their washing lodging, and many other minor Expenses I could not state. When a Change of Government takes place I have no Doubt but I shall be able to establish an auxiliary Church missionary Society in this Colony: till that takes place it is impossible to be done. Justice Field, Judge of the Supreme Court, has expressed we he will second my views in this respect as soon as a new Governor arrives, and has taken the Command. I have no Doubt but this will be done. At the present time the Concerns must go on as well as Circumstances will allow. My colleagues Miss Cartwright & you, are very willing to assist, but at present they can do nothing. I do not expect much aid from any other of my colleagues at any time - one of them I am sorry to say has I bear little regard for the Cause of Religion; and know such men, no good can be expected. The more incorrect a Clergyman is in his conduct, the more he is esteemed externally by men in Power. Adultery is considered merely human weakness, even in the Clergy -