

in with those parts of N. Ireland with ~~which~~ ^{which} we have had any communication - and nothing has tended more to this object than the Chiefs and their sons visiting residing at S. Annes. It is very pleasing to see the sons of the rival Chiefs living with me, and forming such mutual Attachments - I have some very fine youths with me ~~at~~ now, who are acquiring the English Language very fast - I brought Mr. Butler's son back again with me to take the charge of these boys - and to devote his time to their instruction. For the sons of Chiefs living together in civil life, and all paid equal attention to, they will form Attachments that will destroy that Jealousy, which has kept their Tribes in continual war. As the work has gone on so far I am not afraid that it will stand for want of means - If the Active succeeds, the Expenses will gradually cease - Should the Society not approve of purchasing the Active I will thank you to have her insured for the amount she is valued at £1500. If they should take her they will take her for the valuation but when her - I shall be obliged to draw upon you for about half of her Purchase money, and shall leave the Active as a security for that sum should she be returned to me again - or if she gets a Cargo of oil, I shall send the amount to you to pay the £250, which I now draw upon you for - Her outfit as a whaler, will also
