Rev. S. Marsden's Memorandum to Mr. Hornum

25

Mr. Butler will give Mr. Hornum for the Church Missionary Society a wooden Spatula with which the head chief's wife was digging her potato ground amongst her slaves, when the Rev. Mr. Marsden and Butler visited the potato gardens of her husband, whose name is Shenaga, altho she is a woman of the first rank in New Zealand and quite blind yet she was labouring as hard as any common slave,

Mr. Marsden desires Mr. H. to say to the Rev. Mr. Pratt, that finding his wants less than he expected, he has drawn only for £300 and not for £700 as advised in a former letter, that he does not intend to draw on that account any further sum until he hears from the Society -

Mr. Hornum will receive any letters, instructions, written or verbal
