

human nature, without having an opportunity to vindicate myself. As I have been on the spot, tho' no means have ^{been} contrived that Power, or Interest or malice could do to injure me. All ~~the~~ Parties have united their Abilities to aid the views of their Superiors. men might as well attempt to prevent the Sun from rising at its appointed hour, as to attempt to bury the Truth for ever under falsehood - I have not had a common Task to perform. I bless God I have no doubt, but my Enemies will be covered with Shame, and that the Cause of Truth will triumph in the end, in spite of the Influence of Power Perjury and Corruption. I should have returned to England in the