

about 30 or 40 Miles from the Thames, into which the Wyerood falls, there is exceeding fine Land and a great Population. This Land is not liable to be flooded, and from the nature of its Soil can be cultivated at little expence. The Natives grow immense quantities of Potatoes, which with Fish is their principal food. The above remarks will be sufficient to give you an idea of the Thames, and what it will more than probably rise to in length of time. — I hope the Period is near at hand, when those extensive plains will stand thick with Corn, and the lofty Pines break forth into singing and the voice of Joy and Gladness be heard in the dwellings of those poor Heathens, who are now literally sitting in darkness and the Shadow of Death.
