

of a mission to the heathen — He was all life and attention.

Mr. H. informs me, that he was very regular and constant in his seasons for devotion; and he made use of his own expressions in his prayers: and that he always prayed for the success of the Church Missionary Society, for the conversion of his countrymen in Newzealand, and for the Ministers of Bentinck Chapel. — Another friend whom I requested to take notice of him, who brought him with him to Chapel, and often accommodated him in his pew (Mr. Short) has informed me, that he never heard him use an improper word, that not a symptom of the ordinary profane language of sailors, nor escaped his lips, and that he never mentioned the name of God, but with awe and reverence. He seemed also very cautious in his words, to speak plain truth with great simplicity. — one Sunday, as they were walking home from Chapel, when the subject of the discourse had been the sufferings and death of the saviour, Mr. Short asked him if he understood what he had heard. — Nowhee replied "yes indeed: I did understand it: and I hope
