

day brought on a heavy rain, and not being very well; I did not venture out. - I had previously desired that medical aid might be immediately called in. On Friday morning, immediately after breakfast, I repaired to the house where he lodged. The amount given me was very alarming. I went up stairs, and the scene was the most distressing and dreadful, that I have ever witnessed. The floor of the chamber was covered, as it were, with blood, as appeared also the countenance of my poor young friend.

He seemed totally debilitated; and spoke very faintly and with extreme difficulty. -

The room also was offensive in the extreme. The disorder appeared to me quite unintelligible.

I had never seen, among the many cases which I have visited, any thing of the kind before. - I sent immediately to Mr. C. Woodd who had offered to attend him without expense to the Society, and requested that he would as soon, as possible, meet me at Nowher's apartment.

He had arrived first and sent for me from a school, which I was attending.

When I entered the room, he said, "It is not safe for you to be here. - This one of the most rapid, and most malignant, putrid fevers, that I have ever met with." - The fact was, that the whole system, if I express it rightly, was as
