its increase, and God will give His blessing.

Sept. 13, — Ahoudee O Yanna came, this morning, to take his leave of us. He had been on the spot where his house stood before he burnt it, to weep with his friends. He had cut and lacerated his face, arms, and other parts of his body, very much; to express his grief, according to their custom; and his friends had followed his example. We gave him a spade, hoe, axe, gunlet, looking-glass, file, and two knives, one for himself and one for his Wife. These presents contributed to heal his distressed mind. He told me that he should never return to Ranghee hoo; and should take up his residence with Tekohce, and pressed me much to send an European to live at Cowa cowa, with him and
