

his friends, I promised him his wishes should be granted as soon as we could. Whenever he turned his eyes on his presents of tools, his joy was visible in his countenance, and appeared to swallow up all his late sorrows.

Shoudee O Yuna is much attached to the Europeans, and was very serviceable when I first visited New Zealand.

We had also a number of Chiefs to visit us to-day, from different districts.

Their object was, to obtain a hoe or a spade: some of them had come more than twenty miles. They urged their distresses with every argument in their power.

We distributed about three dozens of hoes among them, and a few other tools, and regretted much that it was not in our power to give them three hundred;
