

sent some of these Members to instruct them and that in consequence of my application to the Society in their behalf an inquiry was made and persons were asked to go into this foreign Country to instruct them, Mr Kindall stated further that that there was a doubt among the Members of the Society whether or not any European could safely live among a people who were in the habit of eating human flesh which caused a general fear and hesitation at length however Messrs Hall and King offered their Voluntary Services, as none are Compelled to come without their Free Consent, they accordingly accompanied me to Port Jackson, when they arrived there they were under considerable distress of mind on account of the destruction of the Boyd and waited four years until Mr Kindalls arrival when I purchased the active and sent Mr Kindall and Mr Hall over to see whether or not they dared to venture to live among them after Messrs Kindall and Hall had visited them they resolved to come with their Families, whether they were killed and eaten or not, accordingly they came along with me after remaining a short time and observing the conduct of their Countrymen, they wrote to England for more Europeans, But Masters of ships and other persons who were prejudiced against them from the reports of these
