

1820

X

nevertheless vied with each other in their attentions to me. - I could not but feel attached to them - what would I have given to have had the Book of life opened, which was yet a sealed book, to them; - to have shewn them, that God who made them; and to have led them to Calvary's mount; that they might see the Redeemer who had shed his precious blood for the redemption of the world; and was there set up as an Ensign for the Nations; - But it was not in my power to take the veil from their hearts. - I could only pray for them, and entreat the Father of Mercies, to visit them with his Salvation. - I felt very grateful that a divine Revelation had been granted to me; - that I knew, the Son of God had come; and believed, that He had made a full and sufficient Sacrifice or Atonement for the Sins of a guilty world! - With compassionate feelings for my companions, under a grateful sense of my own mercies, I lay down to rest, free from all fear of danger! -

July

21st - We rose, this morning, at the dawn of day and immediately prepared for our journey. - I felt much refreshed from the comfortable rest I had enjoyed. - We walked for two hours, and then sat down, made a fire, and cooked our breakfast. - The day was favourable, and our walk over the plain, pleasant; as the road was tolerably good, except where a few small swamps, produced by the Springs, intervened. - The land in this plain is, for the most part, fit for cultivation, and might easily be wrought by the plough. - After we had walked a few miles, we observed five young women coming on towards us, who became alarmed and turned back, on seeing us. - one of our party ran after, and overtook, them, when they stopt till