

Fish we could conveniently take with us. I informed him where we were going and invited him to accompany us. He replied it was a busy time with him he was planting his Potatoes and Cumaras - and if he should leave his place, his Slaves would be down & stop instead of cultivating his Ground and on that account he did not wish to leave home till his necessary work was done - He informed us there was a Chief and his Son with him from the place who would go along with us if we would allow them - To this proposal we readily agreed. Toko Wangha is a very good place for a Missionary Station. The Inhabitants on both sides are numerous, along the coast and very friendly. Fish could be procured in the greatest abundance. The Land is good and well supplied with Timber and water, on the Cove, a ~~small~~ small vessel may lay pretty secure. A Mission here would be conveniently situated for keeping up a communication with other Parts of the Islands as canoes are constantly passing up & down the Coast - After we had breakfasted with Tummaranga we proceeded on our Voyage, and arrived at Wangou just at dark - This Harbour is situated ten or twelve miles to the Northward of Bevan Head - I have already mentioned the Place the Chief Weyee-weyee and his People received us kindly - He presented us with an Hog - we hung our Hammocks under the Trees on the Beach, where we remained at night.
 I was very intention to have left the whole Boat here and to have
