is a natural dam of Rock across the River over which the River falls between 10 & 12 feet above the level of the water below I then proceeded to Prangee Hoos and arrived in the evening - I now was determined to see the Chief with whose Daughter Mr Hendall had cohabited - I had sent to her Brother before and he sent me word that he was ashamed to see me - The chief informed Now Hall that he also was ashamed to see me - I went into the village and called upon the old chief.
He was at home and his Sons, Daughters and wife with him - They seemed much embarrassed at first - at length the young woman's sister-in-law said she understood that I would not allow Mr Hendall to have any more Sugar Sea Axes Hoos spades & or any provisions - The conversation relative to the young woman and Mr Hendall became general - The young woman was sitting by me - They admitted Mr Hendall had lived with her as his wife, but that he was not living with her now, and that as he had left the young woman, his conduct should not be noticed now - They also said the other Missionaries did not like Mr Hendall and that they were as bad as he was - This I denied and mentioned the names of five Missionaries and asked them if
