

27

killed one chief and five common people, when he returned home - Shortly afterwards Shoupa's son came to Wanganui to revenge the death of their chief whom Iawhee had killed, upon Iawhee's tribe; and killed a chief belonging to Shungee - Shungee was not yet returned from England; while Enakhee was at Port Jackson, Shungee arrived there Enakhee informed him of the difference that had taken place between him and Temmoranga in consequence of Iaweha being killed by Enakhee's slaves - Shungee asked Enakhee what he intended to do, whether on his return he would go to War or he would be quiet - Enakhee was inclined for War - Shungee recommended him to give over fighting - Enakhee asked Shungee to give him a Bill-hook which he had brought from England, which he did - Shungee gave him also a pair of Pistols, and a red Shawl, and Enakhee agreed to give Shungee on their return to New Zealand a War canoe - These mutual presents were tokens of mutual friendship - When Shungee arrived in New Zealand he made enquiry after different chiefs his former friends and was informed that the chiefs of Iotookahaka had been killed by Shoupa's people who were in alliance with Enakhee - Shungee was very much enraged when he heard that his