

situation we were last night, and tried ¹⁴¹all day to weather the Cape, but in vain, towards evening it blew a strong Gale, we were compelled to bear away to the Northward, and Eastward, and from that time untill our arrival at Port Jackson on the 30th we met with generally very stormy weather, and a very high sea -