

and killed one Chief, and five common People, when he returned Home - Shortly afterwards Shompas son came to vengeance to revenge the Death of their Chief whom Tawhee had killed, upon Tawees Tribes, and killed a Chief belonging to Shungsee.
Shungsee was not yet returned from England - while Enakkee was at Port Jackson - Shungsee arrived there. Enakkee informed him of the Difference that had taken place between him & Tawee in consequence of Tawee's being killed by Enakkee's Slaves - Shungsee asked Enakkee what he intended to do, whether on his return he would go to war, or he would be quiet - Enakkee was inclined for war - Shungsee recommended him to give over fighting - Enakkee asked Shungsee to give him a bill-hook which he had brought from England, which he did - Shungsee gave him also a pair of Pistols and a red Shawl, and Enakkee agreed to give Shungsee on their return to New Zealand a war Canoe - These mutual presents were tokens of mutual Friendship - when Shungsee arrived in New Zealand, he made enquiry after different Chiefs his former Friends, and was informed that the Chief of Pootookakha had been killed by Shompas People, who were in alliance with Enakkee - Shungsee was very much enraged when he heard that his Friend had been killed, and determined to go down to the Shoals to see Enakkee, to demand Satisfaction
