

method of cure water is hot and full of Sulphur Springs. Munghee had his wounded bathed in these warm Springs in which they lay all night. He told me, he could make the water any heat he wished, as some of it was always boiling, by making little Channels in the mud, to convey either the hot or cold water into the paths where his People lay - It cured them also of cutaneous Eruptions, and other Complaints -

Peace
Established

After the Island was subdued, Peace was established, when they returned to Towrangha with their Prisoners & were many of whom had made their Escape in the nights. Munghee's Army on their return were so fatigued in dragging their Canoes thro' the woods that they were unable to guard their Prisoners & were being overpowered with Sleep. Iwi was in this Action he had an uncle killed named Kipo, ~~who was a~~ ~~young man when Captain Cook first visited~~ ~~the Bay of Islands and has been a great warrior~~ ~~ever since~~ - The Hunger, Toil, and Hardships the Character of the Natives

new Zealanders suffer in these expeditions are very great. They are a very persevering People - No Privations or Hardships can prevent them from pursuing any object their minds are set upon. I was told, that Munghee, and Parrane in this Expedition had some Difference Parrane wished to have the matter immediately settled by force of Arms - Munghee objected, alleging that while they were in an enemies Country, they should unite their Forces, and when they returned to the Bay of Islands, they could then decide their present Disputes - Parrane is a very proud man - he had not returned when I sailed. Now their Difference will be settled when he arrives is uncertain - I think he will be quit