I just send you a line to inform you that William Hall is ready for his mission whenever the Society may think proper to call upon him. From the Reports I have had respecting him, I am happy to say that he has made very great Improvements in every Branch of the Arts he has been learning. I have no Doubt, but he now would be able to build a vessel complete, should any necessity call upon him to do this in any of the Islands where Providence may cast them. He has also learned navigation, so as to be able at any future time to find his way to New South Wales from New Zealand, which may hereafter prove
