opened for the missionaries to proceed to New Zealand. I have no doubt, but that the New Zealanders will in time receive the blessings of the Gospel. but I still think the foundation must be laid at New South Wales. The Colony is never free from some of those natives. A school for their instruction in the simple Arts, and in Agriculture, as well as in reading and writing would be the likeliest means to <sup>promote</sup> their good. I think the Society would do right to send out Mr. Kendall - he will then be ready for any work that Providence may call him to. I should recommend to the Society to have him sent out in the capacity of a settler to this Colony with an order from the Secretary of State for a grant of land. This will be of great service to him; and will ensure him the Governor's support and protection to a certain extent. what the Governor is directed to do for him from the Government, he will do.
